Description :

Prsentation de l'diteurFrom the author of the bestselling Suite Franaise.Ada grows up motherless in the Jewish pogroms of a Ukrainian city in the early years of the twentieth century. In the same city, Harry Sinner, the cosseted son of a city financier, belongs to a very different world. Eventually, in search of a brighter future, Ada moves to Paris and makes a living painting scenes from the world she has left behind. Harry Sinner also comes to Paris to mingle in exclusive circles, until one day he buys two paintings which remind him of his past and the course of Ada's life changes once more...Revue de presse"The Dogs and the Wolves is a bitter, angry book reflecting nastiness between Jews, as well as the prejudice and persecution they suffered in France between the world wars... the novel builds towards a final scene of redemptive tenderness: a piercing note of compassion and hope after all the grimness that Nmirovsky has exposed with characteristic boldness." --Ruth Scurr, The Times"Written with tremendous assurance and finesse, The Dogs and the Wolves is an outstanding achievement of European fiction." --Peter Kemp, Sunday

Times"Nemirovsky was incapable of producing anything less than an enchanting novel. She has an irresistible talent for creating character and incident which makes this story as much a page-turner as anything she has written." --Carmen Callil, Guardian"A sad and beautifully written tale." --Caroline
